Immortal Washington,
Father of Liberty!
Bright beneon light
To all who would be free,
Who himbly bow the knee,
In Heaven-born loyalty,
To God and Right.

Now. in our Nation's gloom, Thou risest from the tomb, Bleading with those Who love our banner true, "The red, white and blue," To crush the rebel crew, Fair Freedom's foes.

O God! for his dear aske
Who did the fetters break
Of England's crown:
Help us in thine own might
Now in our Country's night
On every field to smite
All traitors down.

There by the river,
That we no'er sever,
His ashes plend:
Plend for the sake of Henven, States now with cannon riven.

May with Love's peace, be given
Wisdom to leid.

Immortal Washington,
Father of Liberty,
Dark is the night.
Haste to our battle fields,
Strengthen our army's shields,
Quicken the aword it wields,
Flashing for Right.
